

Tulsa Labor & Employment Attorney Keith

Wilkes for Home Healthcare News

December 14, 2021

Home Healthcare News

Supreme Court Keeps NY Vaccine Mandate Alive. Here's What Home Health Providers Should Know.

“This ruling does not mean the Biden Administration’s mandates for health care workers, employees of federal contractors, or employers with over 100 employees will find similar favor at the highest court,” Keith Wilkes, a partner at Hall Estill, said in a statement shared with HHCN. “The legal challenge for those federal mandates is far different, focusing on whether the federal administrative agencies issuing the mandates exceeded their rule-making authority under federal law. In the past, the Supreme Court has kept a close eye on government overreach by administrative agencies.”

Attorneys

---

- Keith A. Wilkes